

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR ACCESS TO ARCHAEA ONLINE FOR INSTITUTIONAL SUBSCRIBERS

(Revised December 20, 2002)

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this day of, 20, between:

Name of Subscriber:

Address:

.....

(hereinafter called the "Licensee") of the one part and Heron Publishing, 202-3994 Shelbourne Street, Victoria, B.C. V8N 3E2, Canada (hereinafter called the "Publisher") of the other part.

WHEREBY it is mutually agreed between the parties hereto for themselves and their respective assigns or successors, as follows:

1. General Terms

For the period during which a full-rate institutional subscription to the print edition of Archaea is maintained, the Publisher shall grant the Licensee a non-exclusive and non-transferable license to provide Authorized Users with access to the electronic edition of Archaea ("Archaea Online"). The fee for access to Archaea Online is included in the cost of an institutional subscription to the print journal. Nothing in this license agreement shall limit the Licensee's rights under national or international copyright law.

2. Licensed Site

The Licensed Site is the physical location to which the print journal is delivered, comprising a single contiguous campus community within the same city, or a single contiguous commercial office complex within the same city. Affiliated locations beyond the Licensed Site are considered to be separate sites. Rates for multi-site licenses are available from the Publisher.

3. Authorized Users

Authorized Users are staff, current students, and temporary or permanent faculty of the Licensed Site. Members of the public who visit the physical premises of the library or libraries operated by the Licensee ("Library Premises") are not considered to be Authorized Users, but are permitted to access Archaea Online from computer terminals located at the Library Premises.

4. Internet Protocol Address(es)

The Licensee shall provide the Publisher with the Internet Protocol (I.P.) address(es) corresponding to the Licensed Site. The aforementioned I.P. address(es) shall not include any computer terminal at any physical location beyond the boundaries of the Licensed Site. Valid I.P. addresses may include proxy servers, provided that such servers employ an authentication method to ensure that only Authorized Users are allowed remote access to Archaea Online.

5. Permitted Uses

Authorized Users of Archaea Online may: (1) browse and search the online archive, retrieve and view articles, and store or print single copies of individual articles, or portions thereof, for their own personal and non-commercial use; (2) distribute printed copies of articles only to other Authorized Users within the same institution; and (3) establish hyperlinks to articles in Archaea Online. Staff members of academic libraries operated by the Licensee are permitted to deliver, by post or fax, a single printed copy of an article to patrons who request such a copy, through interlibrary loan, for their own research or private study.

6. Prohibited Uses

Systematic downloading and printing or archiving of entire issues or volumes of Archaea Online is prohibited. Electronic copies of articles from Archaea Online must not be mounted on any electronic network, including, but not limited to, the World Wide Web. Printed or electronic copies of articles from Archaea Online may not be altered in any way and must retain the Publisher's copyright notices. Copies may not be used for any promotional or commercial purpose whatsoever without direct permission from the Publisher.

7. Licensee's Undertakings

The Licensee undertakes to use all reasonable endeavors to inform Authorized Users of the terms and conditions of this license. The Licensee will, upon becoming aware of any unauthorized use of Archaea Online, take reasonable and appropriate steps to ensure that such unauthorized activity ceases and to prevent its recurrence.

8. Publisher's Undertakings

The Publisher undertakes to use all reasonable endeavors to make Archaea Online available on a 24-hour basis, save for routine maintenance. In the event of interruption or suspension of access, the Publisher will restore access to Archaea Online as soon as possible after becoming aware of the disruption in service.

By signing below, you certify that you have read, and agree to abide by, these Terms and Conditions.
